

WATERBURY

City police arrest two men on child pornography counts

City police arrested two men on child pornography charges after an investigation led them to two homes Wednesday morning.

Adrian Nieves, 26, of 117 Beverly Ave., and 18-

Nieves

Houle

year-old Robert Houle, of 330 Bishop St., were charged with first-degree possession of child pornography after their homes were searched.

Police say an investigation revealed that computers at the home at been used to download child pornography.

Using specialized computer software, Detective Peter Morgan examined the seized computers, finding more than 50 images of child porn on each of the machines, police said. Police say both men confessed to downloading child porn, according to Capt. Christopher Corbett, a police spokesman.

Both men were being held on $100,000 bonds Wednesday afternoon and are expected to appear today in Waterbury Superior Court.